Facebook's Organic Reach Decline: How to Respond

By Pam Dyer

What can you do about plummeting Facebook post reach?

Brands that use Facebook for marketing have seen a sharp drop in engagement. The tight-lipped social network acknowledged as much in a leaked sales deck obtained by TechCrunch in December that included this statement: "We expect organic distribution of an individual page's posts to gradually decline over time as we continually work to make sure people have a meaningful experience on the site." Coupled with recent changes to the news feed algorithm, marketers are finding it harder and harder to generate organic buzz.
